HEAR-IT-TIZZ

Maybe you thought February was just another winter month. But there's plenty going on. The Spectator has determined that the whole month is devoted to the Annual Fig Festival. It isn't quite clear who started this.

But we are informed that Feb. 7 to 16 is National Kraut & Frankfurter Week. Hot dog!

Then from the 10th to the 17th we have National Table Tennis Week.

Shortly after St. Valentine's Day on the 14th is National Crime Prevention Week, from the 17th to the 23rd.

There are others, but these ought to keep anyone intent on celebrating busy.

Jim Holmes of Santa Barbara has been on the Peninsula for the past few days. He came up to attend the T. A. Work dinner Monday night and stayed on although he'd planned to go back Tuesday. He's been busy working toward unseating Ernie Bramblett in the June primary. He also seems to have some of the top local GOP men on his side.

It's news to us, but the new half dollars have a tiny set of initials raised on them. The Spectator hears a story, entirely unconfirmed, that they are Joe Stalin's. The version we heard was that either a wag or an enemy agent in the Treasury was responsible. It was added that this man was fired from his position. If anyone wants to tamper with U.S. money it's all right with us. They might find some way to improve its value.

That was quite a Cascarone Ball last Saturday night. We know personally of one woman who found a tiny piece of colored paper in her hair as late as the middle of the week.

Fred Johnson of the Carmel Valley is opening a real estate office in the old candy store next to the Village Corner.

Interesting sidelight on the recent research doctors' convention in Carmel. A local hotel manager said a high proportion of the doctors ordered double beds--directly opposite from the usual public demand.

- - - - - - - - - - - - -

Good-looking announcements for the Art Association's Ball at Del Monte Lodge came out this week. They were red and white...very soignee. Says it will be Saturday, February 23rd...$5 plus tax per couple...phone 7-6176 for further information. The theme is "One Arabian Night," as everyone but the Arabs must know by now. If it is as fine as generally expected, it will be very fine indeed. Incidentally, the public library tried to be helpful to party-goers and assembled a table of elegantly illustrated magazines, one with a section of 23 pages devoted to Arabian costume. The first day out, someone lifted the 23 pages...what KIND of people are going to that party, anyhow?

- - - - - - - - - - - - -

We were interested to note that the first concrete proposal made by Frederick Rand Rogers was that school athletics should be controlled by students. He commented that some might say, "The mountain has labored and brought forth a mouse." Wouldn't say it was a mouse, exactly. Wouldn't say "mountain" either, come to think of it.

It is said that civilization has failed. We didn't know it had been tried.

More boys than girls are taking Home Ec at Carmel High. That should help with the cakes and pies, but how about with the tomatoes?

KNOWLAND AND NIXON TO SPEAK AT TWO REPUBLICAN MEETINGS ON PENINSULA

Local Republican activity shows clearly that it's election year. Tomorrow, U.S. Senator William F. Knowland will make two appearances in the county, one here and one in Salinas. Next Thursday Senator Richard M. Nixon will speak at the Fairgrounds fund-raising dinner.

Knowland will speak at a luncheon at Cerrito's Restaurant sponsored by the Republican Women of the Peninsula area. His subject will be U.S. foreign policy and its impact on our domestic economy.

As California's senior senator, Knowland is a member of both the powerful Appropriations and Armed Services Committees of the Senate. He is also on the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy.

He was appointed to the Senate in 1945 to succeed the late Hiram Johnson. He had previously served as state assemblyman from Alameda County from 1933 to 1935, and as state senator from 1935 to 1939.

Knowland is an outstanding critic of the present administration's Far East policies.

Senator Nixon will head the list of speakers at the dinner planned for Thursday night. Lt. Gov. Goodwin Knight, Actor George Murphy and Novelist Kathleen Norris will complete the program.

More than 300 tickets have been sold to the $100-a-plate affair. The committee expects that close to 400 will attend the dinner. It is expected that the money raised will cover campaign expenses in the county.

Knowland will be introduced at tomorrow's luncheon by Mrs. Frederick W. Whitney, Pacific Grove, retiring president of the Republican Women of the Monterey area. The committee arranging the meeting include Mrs. Karl W. Hisgen, president, and other officers of the group including Mrs. H. R. Lusignan, Miss Bessie Lee French, Mrs. May O'Grady, Mrs. C. Al Metz, Mrs. Lillian Trowbridge, Mrs. E. B. Gross, Mrs. Edith Schultz, and Mrs. Ina Holling.

Tickets for the lunch are $2 and can be obtained at 599 Hartnell street, Monterey.

SHELBURN ROBISON ENTERS RACE FOR JUDGESHIP

Shelburn Robison's announcement this week has made it a four-way battle for the judgeship of the Monterey Peninsula Municipal Court. The election to fill the $8,000 per year post will be at the June 3 primaries.

Robison's opponents in the race are George P. Ross, Carmel police judge, Ray Baugh, Monterey justice of the peace, and Kalmen Y. Sapero, Monterey attorney.

The newly-created court will replace the Monterey and Carmel police courts and the Monterey Justice Court. It will include all of the Peninsula except for Pacific Grove, north to Fort Ord, south to Anderson Canyon, and the Carmel Valley to Arroyo Seco.

"I think the new judgeship should be filled by a practicing attorney." Robison said. "I have had a certain amount of experience in judging cases while serving on courts martial for 14 years while I was in the Army."

Robison and his wife, the former Helen Wright of Monterey, came to live here in 1936. Robison served as head of military training at the University of Santa Clara during the last war from 1942 to 1946.

SCOUT-O-RAMA BEGINS TONIGHT AT FAIR GROUNDS

While President Truman and Governor Warren headed scores of America's leaders in a nationwide celebration of Boy Scouting's 42nd birthday today, the 1,115 Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorer Scouts on the Monterey Peninsula could hardly wait for their own major fete - the big two-day county fair type celebration called Scout-O-Rama opening Friday at Exhibition Hall, Monterey County Fair Grounds.

The Scout-O-Rama will feature three fast-moving two-hour shows demonstrating the many fascinating crafts and hobbies and skills which for more than four decades have thrilled some 19,000,000 American boys and men with all facets of Scouting, including Indian and woods lore.

The 15 Cub Packs, 18 Scout Troops and four Explorer Units on the Peninsula were today putting last minute touches to their individual booths, and polishing up dramatic stage demonstrations which will provide continuous two hour entertainment at each show at the county fair grounds. Shows begin at 7:30 p.m. Friday,

FLUORIDATION WILL NOT BE ON CARMEL'S APRIL BALLOT

Fluoridation of water will not appear on Carmel's ballot, the city council has decided. The PTA had asked that the question be placed before the people in the spring election.

The basic reason for the rejection is that the council has no power over the water supply. Such an advisory question can only be put on the ballot if the council has power to act on the results. In the case of fluoridation, if the majority of the voters approved the measure, the council would be unable to enact its will because it has no control over the water supply.

The council instead voted to notify the county supervisors of the interest here in fluoridation and urge them to consider the matter for a county-wide election.

However, two other advisory questions will be put on the ballot, repeal of the sales tax and adoption of a pension plan for city employees. In both these cases the council can act in accordance with the vote.

It was pointed out that if the sales tax is repealed and the pension plan approved, the property tax rate will rise 33 cents to $1.13.

The council passed a resolution calling for the April 8 election in which three councilmen will be elected and the two issues will be voted on.

DEMOCRATS PLAN LUNCH TO HEAR CONGRESSIONAL CANDIDATE WILL HAYES

County and Peninsula Democratic organizations have invited Will Hayes, congressional candidate, to speak next Thursday noon at the Casa Munras. All those interested in hearing Hayes are urged to attend.

The 36-year-old Santa Barbara educator has been on the faculty of the University of California there for the past seven years. He also holds the position of Dean of Men. Hayes is a veteran and holds a reserve commission in the Army.

In Santa Barbara, Hayes is a past director of the Rotary Club, member of the city and county library boards, director of the Red Cross chapter, and American Legion member.

He has served as an elected member of the board of education in Santa Barbara and has held elective offices in several professional organiza-

ARCHEOLOGICAL SURVEY MADE AT CARMEL POINT

Miss Sylvia Broadbent of Carmel has recently completed an archeological survey of Carmel Point. Her findings include two large Indian sites, where shell midden indicate the habitation of Indians. These original Carmelites were presumably Costanoan speaking, Miss Broadbent believes, and they either lived at the Point or habitually collected fish there.

Her study was made for the California Archeological Survey at the University of California, where Miss Broadbent is a graduate student.

Not the first survey of the area, Miss Broadbent's added to previous information by determining that the sites were more extensive than previously believed. She mentions that Arnold Pilling has done a great deal in exploring the archeological history of the Peninsula...concentrating in Pacific Grove. Thanks to Pilling, Carmel and environs are one of the best known archeological areas in the state.

Miss Broadbent remarked that information of any finds (such as shell well under the soil, or arrowheads) would be welcomed by the Survey. Reports of such discoveries could be made either to Miss Broadbent at 7-3249 or to Clement W. Meighan. archeologist, California Archeological Survey, at the University of California, Berkeley, 4.

Miss Broadbent, who came to Carmel from London four and a half years ago, lives with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Solomon, at Monte Verde and Fourth. She began her study last summer.

"I said to a man who stood at the gate of the year, 'Give me a light that I may tread safely into the unknown', and he replied, 'Go out into the darkness and put your hand into the hand of God. That shall be to you better than a light and safer than a known way'!"

COLOR FILMS OF NATIONAL PARKS TONIGHT

A colored screen tour of the nation's parks by Leonard Hall, noted Missouri lecturer and author, will be the third in the Audubon Society's series. It is to be presented at Sunset Auditorium this evening.

The brilliant film makes a tour of all of our national parks from Mesa Verde in southwestern Colorado to Grand Canyon in Arizona; Bryce and Zion in Utah; Sequoia and Yosemite in California; Crater Lake in Oregon; Mt. Ranier in Washington; Glacier in Montana; and Yellowstone and Grand Teton in Wyoming. Wild flowers, birds, animals and rock formations are shown in a blaze of color. Besides the magnificent scenes within the parks, there are color sequences of Indian villages, dinosaur tracks, lakes and streams of northern California.

Leonard Hall comes from Missouri, his "Possum Trot Farm" having served as a first hand means of inspiring him to the needs of conservation practices. From there he does missionary work to show the reasons why this country should be vitally interested in the conservation of the natural resources.

The Audubon Screen Tours are one phase of the nation-wide activity of The National Audubon Society in bringing the philosophy of "conservation" to our citizens. This is a profound conviction of the importance of education in the world of today for the world of tomorrow.

Mr. Hall is not only an agriculturist; he is better known as a writer, sportsman and lecturer. Local members and friends who desire to attend a pre-lecture dinner for him should get in touch with Mrs. Isabelle Terhune at 7-6028.

CONCERT BY TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION

Sunday evening, Feb. 10, at 7:30 at the Carmel Art Gallery on Dolores between 5th and 6th in Carmel, the Monterey County branch of the Music Teachers Association will present a membership concert.

This organization, one year old, represents music teachers of the county endeavoring to raise the standards of music teaching and stimulating exchange of ideas and ideals with plans of self-improvement by the use of the "California Plan," which provides for further study toward degrees of collegiate rank.

The members who will appear on this program are Mr. E. C. Hopkins, well known Monterey teacher of piano and organ, playing a group of his own compositions; Miss Dorothy Heer, outstanding piano teacher of Salinas who has presented many pupils in this area; Mr. Serge Panin, tenor, professor at the Army Language School at the Presidio, will sing a group of songs in three languages. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Maria Arkhangelsky, piano teacher in Pacific Grove, and member of the organization.

Mr. Wade Parks, teacher of piano in Monterey, will give the last half of the program. Mr. Parks is a new addition to our fine teachers on the Peninsula. He has a Master's degree from U.S.C. at Los Angeles, and studied under Rudolph Ganz and Egon Petri. He was formerly on the faculty of the University of Oregon.

This concert is an open concert, teachers and music lovers interested being welcome to attend.

A Review of UDAY SHANKAR AND THE INSCRUTABLE EAST

The Uday Shankar Ballet troup last Sunday played to a capacity house, under the auspices of the Carmel Music Society. To the exotic music of a four piece native band (primarily percussive) the group danced in the peculiarly stilted but marvellously controlled manner of the Orient. Their dances portrayed stories taken from Indian life, in content and expression muted and violent by turn.

Interesting to Eastern (and busier) eyes, the dances were an insight into the Indian culture, and if there is one, into the collective Indian personality. The use of formalized gestures is, however, a language that we have not adopted, and therefor is in part lost on us. Largely, one supposes, these gestures count on conditioned responses. For example, in Italy the custom of waving is inverted from ours. They make what is to us a beckoning gesture when they want to wave at a passer by. It is amid mutual giggles in Italy that Americans and Italians exchange greetings. Something of the same barrier of communication exists for us in the Indian dances. If one doesn't understand what "thumbs down" means... it isn't a particularly telling comment. On the other hand, certain human emotions and patterns are universal. Shyness, voluptuousness, gaiety, physical exuberance, mystical concentration were all vividly portrayed by this perfectly trained ballet group.

Ours is not a formalistic culture, and the Indian dance is highly ritualized. But in addition to the aesthetic values to which we respond in greater or lesser degrees, as an anthropological study it offers interest--as does the rhythmic music which has a haunting beauty and vitality even to Western ears.

Perhaps the best way to take the Hindu ballet is with a stiff dose of preparation for an "Evening in Calcutta"--to go prepared to enjoy the supple, graceful bodies, the extravagantly colorful costumes, and the inscrutability of it all. It is as interesting as a travel book...in the same way. This is not however the kind of entertainment to be derived from "Les Sylphides," or Western ballet, but it would be well to remember that the entertainment derived from any art form is always dependent upon the capacity of the perceiver.

carmel library notes

Two new fiction additions of uncommon interest are being put into circulation this week at Harrison Memorial Library. Barabbas by Par Lagerkvist, winner of the 1951 Nobel Prize for Literature, received wide acclaim when published in Norway and an equally enthusiastic reception has greeted it here. The second book is The Short Novels of Colette. These stories dealing with love, requited and unrequited, are by the French woman, Madame G. C. Colette, who is acknowledged by many critics to be France's best living writer.

This week's mystery addition is Behind the Crimson Blind, a Sir Henry Merrivale story by Carter Dickson.

Political themes dominate the new non-fiction which is being displayed this week and which will circulate beginning next Monday. The Yenan Way by Eudocio Ravines is the story of the author's Communist indoctrination and activity in his native country, Chile, where he was instrumental in the organization of the Popular Front. His later disillusionment with the party and its aims forms the basis of his advice to the United States in its dealings with South American countries.

Military Attache in Moscow by Richard Hilton is taken from a diary kept by Major General Hilton during the year he spent in Moscow in the service of the British Army. General Hilton made every effort to meet and know the "non-official" people of Russia and to report on life in Russia as it really is and not as the Cominform would like us to believe it is.

Isaac Deutscher, who wrote Stalin, A Political Biography, has made an intensive study of Soviet Trade Unions, which traces their development from 1917 to the present and their transition from independent organizations to state agencies.

A member of the English Parliament who switched from the Labor party to the Conservative party, Ivor Thomas, in The Socialist Tragedy advances the thesis that socialism is just communism at a slower pace, and will lead eventually to a complete loss of freedom.

Dearest Isa is a collection of the letters exchanged by Robert Browning and Isabella Blagden. Browning met Miss Blagden while living in Florence, Italy, and, after the death of Elizabeth Barrett and his return to England, he kept up a faithful correspondence with her. The collection is edited by Edward C. McAleer.

In Across World Frontiers Thomas W. Lamont, who was an outstanding world citizen, has told of his activities in international affairs and his many contacts with the rich and famous of his time. This book was edited from his notes by his wife.

The Villa Diana is the name of the home occupied by Alan Moorehead in Florence, Italy. It was at one time the home of Poliziano, the tutor of the children of Lorenzo the Magnificent, and Mr. Moore-

It's Loaded—So Be Careful!

Before you drive the Golden Anniversary Cadillac, there is one thing we should like to impress upon you: It's loaded—so be careful!

There's more power in that dynamic engine than you'll ever need—except for the rarest emergency. And it should never, never be used for dramatic display on the get-away.

If somebody else wants the honors when the light turns green—let 'em go. You don't have to prove anything, anyway.

But that great power works for you—even when you're not unleashing it to the limit.

It works for you as a reserve—and gives you that easy, quiet, flowing ride which makes a Cadillac such a joy to own and such a thrill to drive . . .

It gives you that slow-moving engine—that simply loafs at all legal speeds—and which is a literal Methuselah when it comes to long life . . .

And it is a primary reason for that unbelievably low upkeep expense, at which Cadillac owners never cease to marvel. Some fleet owners have found, for instance, that Cadillacs cost less to operate and maintain than any other cars they have ever used. And the easy-going engine, that never operates under strain, is a big factor in this economy.

Yes—Cadillac's great power works for you—and is necessary—and is one of the vital reasons why Cadillac's performance is so outstandingly different.

But we trust that no Cadillac owner will ever use it for dominating the highway. To do so is not only counter to the rules of safety—but it is not in keeping with the graciousness the motoring public has come to expect from the person who sits at the wheel of a Cadillac.

Have you seen this great Golden Anniversary creation? If not, we should be pleased to welcome you to our showrooms—at any time.

MRS. C. D. GRANT NEW SCOUT COUNCIL PRESIDENT

Mrs. Charles D. Grant of Carmel was chosen as president of the Monterey Peninsula Girl Scout Council at a meeting held on Tuesday, Feb. 5, at the Pacific Grove Women's Club. She will succeed Mrs. Peter Bramhall who resigned in order to become a professional field director for the Girl Scouts.

Approximately 75 members attended the meeting at which a pot-luck dinner was served. The Council voted to have a cooky sale to open March 22 and discussion was held to determine means of implementing the Scouts "Neighborhooding" program.

RECORD P.T.A. MEMBERSHIP

The largest paid-up membership ever achieved in Carmel has been reached by the Parent-Teachers Association, it was announced this week. A total of over 400 parents and teachers now participate and the series of "Grade Meetings" held this year is credited as a contributing factor. Every parent with a child in school, from kindergarten through 12th grade, has been invited to attend an evening meeting at which the teacher for his child's grade has explained the aims and curriculum for the year. The attendance at these meetings has been excellent and the discussions most rewarding.

Fred Laue, Coordinator of Secondary Education for Monterey County, will be the guest speaker when the Carmel High School P.T.A. holds its second meeting of the year next Wednesday, Feb. 13, in the High School library. Mr. Laue will talk on "Problems of Adolescent Youth." Preceding the meeting which will begin at 8:15, dessert and coffee will be served.

Mrs. James Larsen, 20th District President of the P.T.A., will be the speaker at the regular February meeting of the Carmel P.T.A. to be held in Sunset School Cafeteria on Thursday, Feb. 14, at 3 p.m. This will mark the 55th birthday of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers which was founded in 1897.

NEW A.W.V.S. OFFICERS

The presidency of the A.W.V.S. changed hands last Friday at the annual meeting of that organization in the Seaside-Del Monte Youth center. Mrs. Frank La Cauza was the incoming president, and took over from Mrs. Richard Bower. Mrs. Bower thanked the group for its outstanding co-operation in the past year which has, she said, led to a remarkable record of achievement for the A.W.V.S.

New chairmen were announced for the committees of the Women's Voluntzry Services. They are Mrs. Roy Page, 1st vice-president; Mrs. Edward Mac Murtry, 2nd vice-president; Mrs. Edwin Atherton, 3rd vice-president; Mrs. Leonard M. In the second part of the program, arranged by Eben Whittlesey, Col. Hillyer will recount the famous Pacific battle. He served as 10th Army chaplain under Lt. Gen. Simon L. Buckner.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Experienced Hand Wanted

Cappy Miller's back from visiting relatives and tells about a big snow storm that knocked out the electric power for miles around.

Naturally, the local power company was doing everything possible to restore service but folks kept calling in and one woman gave them a new twist.

"I don't mind not having lights," she grumbled, "but I've got 20 cows in my barn and they all have to be milked by machine. Nobody around here knows how to milk a cow by hand any more."

From where I sit, it's only too easy to forget how to do something—even as simple as milking a cow—if we don't keep at it. And that goes for practicing tolerance, too. Like forgetting our neighbor has a right to decide for himself whether or not to enjoy a temperate glass of beer. If we don't keep the other fellow's point of view in mind we're all liable to get "snowed under" by intolerance.

BIG WEEK AT YOUTH CENTER

Plans for the Youth Center's Spring Show took a spurt ahead this week when Bing Crosby, benefactor par excellence of the Youth Center, phoned Jack Giles, the director, to say that he would soon be sending a script for it. The script, and some other Hollywood helps, should make it a particularly outstanding time for Carmel viewers. The Follies are to be April 25 and 26. Rehearsals are now in progress, and the Center welcomes volunteer talent.

Miss Valley High, who was the guest of Fred Godwin, who together with Crosby made the Center possible, left Carmel for her home in San Fernando on Wednesday. Miss Florence Pryor, the queen in question, stayed at La Playa as Godwin's guest, together with her mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Danial A. Pryor. Florence pronounced the visit a great success. She was beaued around by the Youth Center to the basketball game last weekend, to Point Lobos and Big Sur, and was the guest of honor at a dinner party given by La Playa for her.

Tomorrow will find the Youth Center transporting young people to the Hollister basketball games, and as usual, anyone volunteering to carry some extra passengers to the game will be welcomed.

It has also been announced that the Youth Center will help on the Lion's Spring Fashion Show.

The Carmel club plans a joint meeting on Feb. 19 with the Capitola and Soquel clubs to be held at Deer Park Tavern at Aptos.

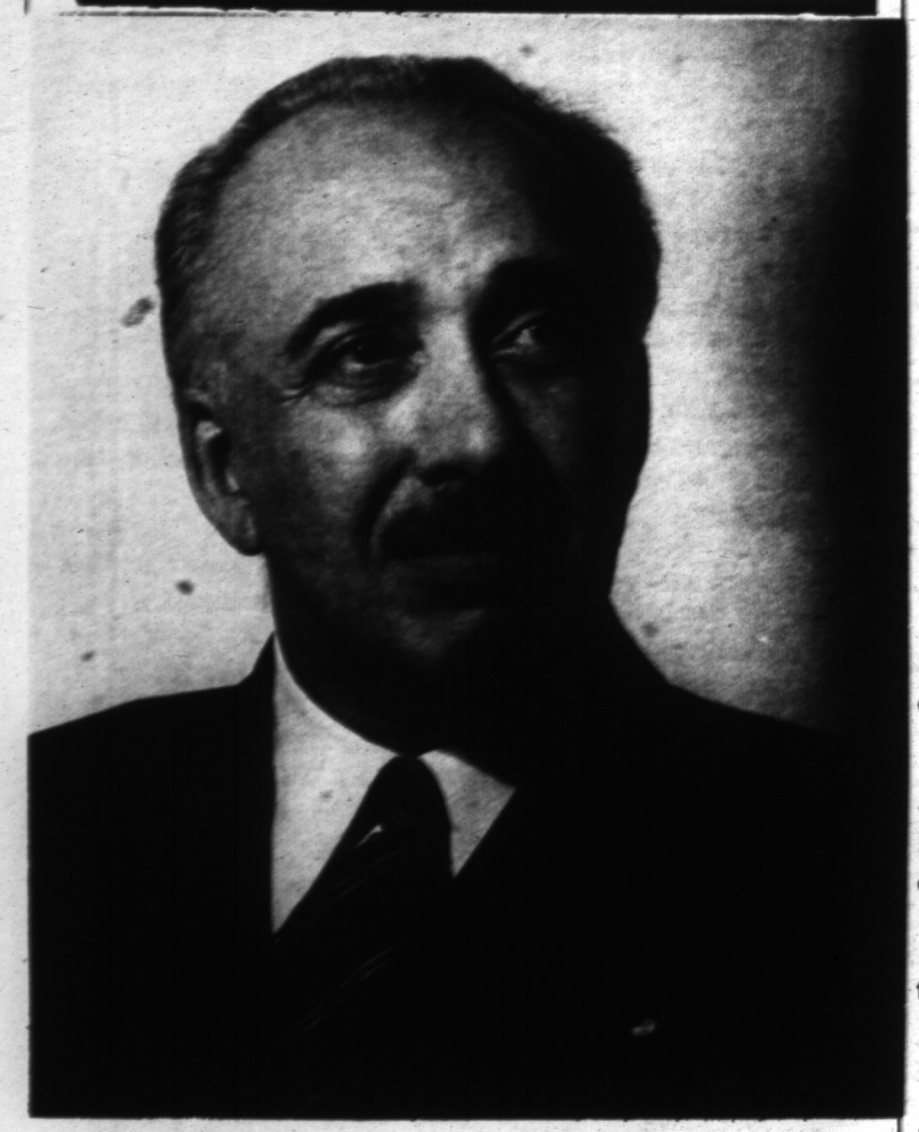
WHO IS IT?



"Carmel - die Stadt, die es nichwerden wollte" ("Carmel - the city which does not want to be a city") was the title of a recent article in the Arbeiter-Zeitung, published in Vienna. It came to the attention of the Spectator through Oscar F. Gavrilovich, the former Consul General from Yugoslavia to the U.S. Mr. Gavrilovich received it as he does a large number of foreign papers, which he uses in his historical writing.

The people of Vienna read the article signed by Peter Fabrizius of "San Franzisko" on December 16 in the paper which is published in German.

In the process of getting the article translated, the Spectator somehow became more interested in Mr. Gavrilovich than in the article.

After thirty years in the service of the Yugoslav government, Gavrilovich resigned in 1946 over the incident in which two American planes were shot down over Yugoslavia. Protesting the action to his government, Gavrilovich received, in reply, a summons to return to Yugoslavia. It was a call he chose not to heed, coming instead to California after resigning his post.

Born in Belgrade, Gavrilovich attended school in Yugoslavia, and was graduatedfrom the University of Nuremburg in Germany. His long diplomatic career has taken him to Italy, Germany, France, Holland, Czechoslovakia, and even French Colonial Africa. He speaks about a half dozen languages..."A little" he says, though since he is currently using references in at least that many, it is not such a very little.

Happily married in Paris, "many years ago," Gavrilovich has an outstanding wife. She was the first woman to be accepted as a lawyer in Yugoslavia, and the only woman judge in that country's history. She is, at present, teaching at the Army Language School.

At present Gavrilovich is working on a number of projects. One is a history in which he hopes to authenticate his thesis that the roots of the present unrest, as well as those of the two world wars, may be directly traced to events of the 1880's...the Treaty of San Stephano. He is using in this work a number of Yugoslavian and other books, and has a bountiful supply of European newspapers coming to him for contemporary research.

A charming man, Gavrilovich is a marvellous storyteller...and some of his work is creative writing, both original and translations of plays and stories. He is also, in his extra time, compiling memoirs of his experiences as a top rank diplomat.

A story which he told of an experience in New York, at the time he was Yugoslavian Consul General dealt with the Russian minister to the United States, at the time Krasenkina made her famous leap to freedom. The Russian attended a large formal affair, and confronted Gavrilovich with a harrassed air. "I am leaving," he pronounced. Since this is not a unique announcement among Russian diplomats, Gavrilovich was not greatly surprised, but did not ask why. Seems some wag had seated the Russian between the delegates from Latvia and Lithuania--two countries Russia wasn't recognizing at the moment.

A Carmel resident for ten months now, Gavrilovich is working in his pleasant home at 12th and Monte Verde... at a table piled high with newspapers, magazines, books and notes.

Mementos of his New York quarters are scattered about the room. Lovely hundred year old miniatures, some remarkable charcoals by Mrs. Gavrilovich, a bust of Beethoven, and a first edition of Victor Hugo's "Les Miserables." The latter, which was first published in little pamphlets, was gathered by Gavrilovich into leather bound volumes. His five volumes are among the few first editions extant.

A pleasant, literate citizen of the world...he is now as well a resident of Carmel.

head's book contains a brilliant biographical study of Poliziano as well as his observations of many facets of present-day Italian life. Most of the material in this book originally appeared in the New Yorker magazine.

Martha Simpson, who is a successful artist and teacher of art, has written Art is for Everyone, which seeks to dispel the distrust and fear most of us feel toward abstract art and the "highbrow" language of art.

There are two new books for the hobbyist this week, How to Build Your Own Furniture by Paul Bry and The Weekend Gardener by Dorothy H. Jenkins. The former gives instructions, lists of materials, and numerous drawings, sufficiently detailed for the unskilled person. The latter book, by the garden editor of the New York Times, covers all phases of lawn and garden cultivation and is directed to the amateur gardener.

- - - - - - -

The library has been fortunate in receiving the extensive collection of chamber music scores made by Frederick Preston Search. Mr. Search, who now resides in Carmel Valley, has made a gift of his collection and it will be available for circulation.

MARINA SVETLOVA WILL APPEAR HERE FEB. 16

Miss Svetlova was a member of the original Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo and was for seven years prima ballerina of the Metropolitan Opera. She has toured with her own concert group since 1944, appearing throughout the United States, South America, Canada and Hawaii.

SCHOLARSHIPS WELL EARNED AT CARMEL HIGH

Scholarships were in the news at Carmel High this week. Names appearing among the honored were Deborah Gerring, Diane Lewis, Donna Douglas, and Ted Brandhorst.

Deborah, who is now zt Cal, received the A.A.U.W. Carmel award of $150 last year. Her first semester grades are reported now, a B-average.

Diane Lewis was picked by the Soroptimists for a $100 scholarship which she will use in her studies at M.P.C.

Two scholarships which were awarded last May, have fallen due now. They were earned by the Girls' League Carnival at that time, and awarded to Donna Douglas and Ted Brandhorst upon the condition that their first semester grades were B or above. Donna and Ted came through with spanking B plus and A minus respectively and so will collect $150 apiece now. Both are at Cal.

It has been decided, in connection with the annual Carnival, to combine the efforts of the Carmel PTA and the Girls' League this spring to give a mutual affair. It is estimated that the sum earned by the Girls' League last year, $300, should be more than doubled by this joining.

ANATOMY, ARCHAEOLOGY AMONG SUBJECTS AT STANFORD CONFERENCE

Speakers to be heard at the Stanford Conference on Feb. 22 at Monterey Peninsula College include experts on the anatomy of modern man and the archaeology of ancient Greece. Dr. W. W. Greulich, head of the Stanford University anatomy department, will talk about "Growing Up and Growing Old," while Dr. Hazel D. Hansen, classics professor at Stanford, will lecture on "Greece: The Land of Struggle."

But the anatomy-and-archaeology items aren't the only ones on the educational menu at the conference. Other authorities will fill out the bill of fare with a wide variety of subject matter. Dr. M. E. Spaght, president of Shell Development Company and a director of Stanford Research Institute, will discuss "What's Next in Scientific Research." Dean E. R. Hilgard, past president of the American Psychological Association and head of Stanford's Graduate Division, will lecture on the "Psychology of Leadership." Stanford's School of Engineering Dean, Dr. F. E. Terman, will talk about "Electronics in the World Today." And Dr. L. T. Chapin, speech-and-drama professor at Stanford, will express himself on the subject, "From Talk to Television."

The introductory address at the Conference here will be made by Dr. J. E. Wallace Sterling, president of Stanford University. Extending the formal welcome to the Conference will be Calvin C. Flint, Monterey College president.

Chairman of the committee in charge of the Stanford Conference here is Stafford Hughes of Monterey.

All of the lectures described are open to the public, and the fees charged are nominal. The registration fee for adults is 75 cents, and for students, 50 cents. Lunch will be served at a cost of $1 to those wishing to attend both morning and afternoon lectures. Requests for reservations should be addressed to Carmel Martin, Jr., P.O. Box 112, Monterey.

FORT ORD OFFICERS' BALL BENEFITS MARCH OF DIMES

Music and entertainment were furnished by the 6th Infantry Division band and men from the Special Service office.

VISITS BEVERLY HILLS

Mrs. J. William MacLennan (E. Cashion MacLennan) returned last week from a two weeks' visit with friends and relatives in Beverly Hills and Los Angeles. While there, she visited the art exhibitions at Biltmore Gallery and the County Museum and was entertained at several luncheon parties.

Mr. and Mrs. MacLennan left last Tuesday for San Francisco where they took in the Fifth Annual Exhibit of American Painters at the Legion of Honor galleries and attended the San Francisco Symphony concert.

Mr. MacLennan will spend next week in Beverly Hills visiting his mother, Mrs. Edward A. Shedd, and in Santa Barbara, his former home, visiting friends.

KURT VON MEIER PASSES NROTC TEST

Kurt von Meier of Carmel was informed this week that he had passed his college aptitude tests under the N.R.O.T.C. program. He was the only Carmel youngster to do so. Kurt will go to San Francisco this week to take a physical exam, and if he passes, will be eligible to attend the college of his choice. He has applied to the University California and plans to study Geography. He will enjoy the rank of mid-shipman during school, and serve for three years in the Navy upon his graduation.

To all water users..

On February 4, 1952, this Company filed application with the California Public Utilities Commission for an increase in water rates on the Monterey Peninsula. We want you to know the reason why this action is necessary at this time.

All business has long been subjected to higher taxes, labor and cost of materials and equipment. Your water company is no exception. Manufacturers, wholesalers, and retailers reflect their increased costs in sales price at the time costs go up--not so with your water company.

Utility income is obtained from rates which are frozen until the Public Utilities Commission authorizes a change. This takes time--lots of time - because the procedure is highly technical and must be scheduled to meet a full Commission calendar. Meanwhile, the costs of operating your water system have continued to go up from month to month without comparable increases in your water bill.

Your water company is justly proud of the high standard of its water service in the communities it serves through its facilities, and the 50 employees who make this service possible.

Money to finance planned improvements must come now, as in the past, primarily from new investors in company securities, and to attract new investors company earnings must compete with earnings of other enterprises seeking capital. Present rates do not provide sufficient revenue to meet today's costs nor do they provide for an adequate rate of return on capital invested.

In order to maintain a high standard of service, and to improve and maintain facilities adequate to meet the growth of the area and provide a sufficient return to investors, rates of necessity must produce adequate revenue to meet these requirements - all in the best interests of public service.
